

Simple games that are particularly good for learning phonemes and those words that can be decoded.

- Pairs/palmenism – pictures that have the same sound, picture to word,
- Tray game/Word recall – I spy...
- Writing letters/spelling the words on your back one letter at a time in order.
- Say the letter/word and either spell aloud, write or find the correct letters to make the word
- Spell word aloud – my turn your turn a letter at a time
- Slowly reveal – from left to right
- Unscrambling letters to make a given word.
- Simple flashcards – if they are good at this get them to pat their head and rub their tummy whilst they are recalling words.
