

Den Building

An activity for both out or indoors and for all ages!

You might need...

Building dens are very important for children and will help with their learning, creative thinking, sustained and shared thinking. It will also help them understand how to plan, evaluate, and investigate. Also, it's inexpensive, a good family team bonding activity and just plain old-fashioned fun!

Be creative and inventive and have fun - Sarah

